

COLLIES AT HOME

Bowie, '14, (formerly Frankie) meets his new family, Tor, Kathleen and Sorren, from Albuquerque. "We LOVE, love, love this dog!" says Kathleen. "He is such an amazing addition to our family."

Norah, '13, (formerly Nova), "has a heart of gold and has been the easiest rescue ever," says Diane in Sedona, AZ. Kody, front, is Norah's handsome blue merle companion.

Duke, '14, (formerly Tosh, at right) "has adjusted 100% and feels right at home. We adore him and Lady just idolizes him," says adopter Courtney in Las Cruces, NM.

Hunter, '13, completed a 6-week course in Rally/Agility "and did really well," says Tony in Pahrump, NV. "He is a happy boy ... and my sidekick."

Lady, '14, (formerly Grace) cuddles up with her new dad Barry in Albuquerque. She "loves to take long walks in the Sandias," he reports.

Sam, '10, (formerly Raleigh) gets a big hug from his relieved mom, Jenny, after a cancer diagnosis for her beloved boy turned out to be a mistake.

We'd love to share a photo of your collie with our readers!

Blue, '13, and his family, from left, Lisa, James and Stella, visit the Celtic Fair in Rio Rancho, NM, in May. "He is a very happy dog, and has the waggiest tail I have ever seen," Lisa writes.

Dixie, '14, "is the most beautiful, loving girl," says Barbara in Camp Verde, AZ. "She and Yogurt [a rescued greyhound] are hitting it off and currently sleeping together!"

Loucilou, '13, (formerly Stella) is ready for her close-up! She is "truly wonderful," says her adopter, SWCR volunteer Debbie in Marana, AZ.

"Danny, '05, and I have done therapy dog work for 6 1/2 years at University of New Mexico Hospital mental health center. They held a big party for us on Danny's last day," Dick writes.
